PALM SPRINGS' DRIVERS NEED SAFETY REMINDERS

Every American motorist has been subjected in some form or another to the need for safer driving. Pictures of death and destruction resulting from ... In signing documents people often traffic accidents appear in the news- fear that they are "signing away their papers almost every day. National and lives." In the case of the safe driver state Traffic Safety Councils predict the number of people that will be killed cil, members are signing to save their on holidays, and always come pretty lives. It isn't asking much:

But the shameful record of heedlessness and disaster on our streets and highways continues to unfold. The fatal mistakes of overconfidence, thoughtlessness and lack of judgment take their terrible toll.

Safety experts have come to realize that closer contacts with drivers must be made. National and state campaigns are absolutely necessary-and help a great deal-but the message must be brought right down to a driver by his -or her-friends and neighbors. If such a program is carried on in towns throughout the nation, it will get re- How About 1957?

It's Being Done Here

The Palm Springs Safety Council has been organized with this in mind. Every driver in this community should become a member, sign the safe driver pledge and resolve to be a safer driver. Traffic accidents right here increased 25 percent last year over 1955. You don't think it can happen to you-but it can.

The Don Miller family of Palm Springs didn't think it could happen to them, but they lost their little boy in a traffic accident here last year. Don is serving as chairman of the newly organized Safety Council-has been instrumental in its creation-in the hope that > his great loss will serve as an example in saving other lives. The Council has signed up over 300 members-it should have 3,000 within the next two months.

Pledge Is Very Simple

pledge of the Palm Springs Safety Coun-

- 1. Be courteous.
- 2. Obey traffic regulations.
- 3. Have your car inspected frequently.

Any driver unwilling to agree to those rules should not have the right to operate an automobile. A Safety Council sticker should be a badge of honor and serve as a constant reminder to the driver of the car to be careful. Neighbors and friends should encourage each other to become members and take the pledge to be more considerate drivers and to keep their cars in safe condition.

The figures for 1956 will be released soon-and they are going to be worse than 1955: 37,800 deaths . . . 2,158,000 injuries . . . 715,260 casualties from speeding alone . . . 230,400 pedestrian casualties . . . $650 million in medical bills . . , almost 2 BILLION in property damage. Over 90 percent of this death and destruction was absolutely needless -could have been prevented if those involved had:

- 1. Been more courteous.
- 2. Obeyed traffic regulations.
- 3. Had their cars checked regularly.

at the moment in designing a sampler for our trying times. It is an updated version of those mottoes embroidered by our ancestresses to teach needlecraft and moral precepts (and to hang in bedrooms where George Washington slept). And the first one off the assembly line will be sent to Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York wrapped in an old copy of Emily Post. That is, the sampler will thus be encased.

The design around the motto Itself will take the form of a wreath of rosemary, rue, forgetme-nots and deadly nightshade, all tastefully entwined. The leg-end itself, centered in the wreath and written in capital letters, will spell out, "You Catch More Flies With Sugar Than With Vinegar.

GRANDMA CALLAWAY set powerful store in this, one of her favorite working creeds, and time has certified her wisdom. For fly-catching, you can't beat sugar. Mind you, Grandma didnot like the flies she baited. And she didn't ask me to approve their political and domestic arrangements.

She simply contended that when it came time to catch flies, sugar was the ticket. At the moment the United States government, in place of a consistent, coherent and well-devised foreign policy, is in the business of catching flies Since the times are so parlous, it behooves us citizens to scatter sugar, at least publicly, and save the vinegar till later.

City Editor Victor Barnett picked up the telephone receiver. The voice on the other end of the telephone refused to give his name but the information he gave Vic was interesting enough for him to shout clean across the cityroom: "Bill come here." You move with haste when the editor shouts that loud. Beside his desk he related what he had heard over the telephone, and gave the assignment which sent me into the best neighborhood in

At the scene of my assignment I noticed what was taking place; talked to workmen erecting a house next door and then called the information into my City

"THE PIGEONS can't fly. They are as drunk as feudal lords, Some of the sparrows act like they want to fight the biggest tom cat in the neighborhood and the smell of hootch fills the air like the sweet scent of roses after a heavy dew.

"And Boss," I kept on, "there was a helluva explosion in the back yard of Mr. and Mrs. Got Rocks, I learned, Mrs. Got Rocks just slammed the door in my face when I asked a few questions. She said there wasn't any explosion, but one tree in her back yard is toppled over and earth right in the center of her

"GO WITH THE story," was the order, "but find out first what

All of the neighbors confirmed the sound of the explosion and robes, the maid and the man servant out in the back yard with shovels frantically filling a gap-ing hole. So down to the district attorney's office where the special investigator was a friend Pledged to silence-that is, that the story, if any, would be mine exclusively, off we went to the scene of the explosion early that ment did it take place? Then he started tapping the walls of the subterrainean room and motioned for me to do the This went on for about a half hour. Now I've read about what was to take place in books of fiction and seen what occurred in motion picture scenes. ANYWAY, MY HAND lightly touched a small square of cement walling and a whirring sound instantly filled the room. I jumped back just in the nick of time and Pat Saunders froze in his tracks. A huge cement door, as thick as the door of a bank vault, began to swing open propelled by a huge electric motor attached to the inside of the door.

As the door opened wide we no ticed a luxuriously furnished room and in the very center a huge pile of earth. The room t have been about 20 feet long and about 15 feet wide.

PAT AND I stepped through the opening and we knew instantly that an explosion had really taken place, caused by internal stion of a still. That was Pat's theory but all the evidence was buried or destroyed without a doubt. Out of the door and into the fresh air again. Pat shrugged his shoulders. your story Bill but we will be

So downtown I went to interriew Mr. Got Rocks. He promptly threw me out on my ear with the threat that if I wrote anything about what had happened he'd see to it that I was taken care of, but plenty.

WE DON'T TAKE threats in the newspaper business, and although I never wrote that a still exploded in the back yard of a millionaire's mansion there was no doubt about what had occurred by reading between the lines.

Mr. Got Rocks went out of his way for almost two years to get me in a spot where he and his hencemen could work me over. Once I ran for two city blocks in order to escape a good beating from three of his men and then something happened.
At a cocktail party when the State of Oklahoma finally voted wet. I was formally introduced to Mr. Got Rocks and we both laughed about the story and he confirmed that it was really a still that blew up. "Certainly lucky some of my friends didn't go up with that still." he recalled. Well, time heals all wounds and stills finally became legal, that is, those authorized by Uncle Sam.

HOLMES ALEXANDER: How to Skin a Cat

By HOLMES ALEANDER WASHINGTON, D. C .- There's more than one way to skin a political cat, and much can be learned by comparsion of meth-Take the case of two Democratic Senators, Fulbright and Symington, both in attack upon the Eisenhower Administration. Fulbright's assault took the form of a tight-lipped indictment of Secretary Dulles as a man deserving no confidence whatever THE ARKANSAS Senator and ormer Rhodes Scholar said in effect that he could not go along with bipartisan foreign policy while Dulles remained in power. This puts Fulbright on record as demanding Dulles' dis-missal as the price of peace between the Democratic interna-tionalists for whom he speaks at this time, and the Republican internationalists, for whom Duland the President speak. Fulbright is something of a ner among the Senators. William White's fine book about the Senate, "Citadel," Fulbright is represented as being outside the "inner sanctum" of Southernwho are the core of world's most exclusive "'club." UNLIKE MOST Southern De-

He was one of only two Democrats in the Senate who supported the Dixon-Yates contract. His rating on the CIO-AFL list of pro-Laborites is low. An habitue of the Senate corridors has told me:

"THE LIBERALS are mistaken in Fulbright. They think that anybody from Arkansas with shoes on is bound to be one of their own."

It strikes me that Fulbright, like too many of the intellectuals, is living in the past-not,unhappily, the romatic past, but merely the past of bitter memories. To him, a Republican, unless I'm mistaken, is a cross between a Civil War reconstructionist and a Gilded Age mono-

The relish with which Fulbright has gone after Dulles and the President is as strong as it was three years ago, when he advocated the destruction of Joe Mc-Carthy and ridiculed the 22 Republicans who supported "Terrible Joe." It appears to me that less of type, Fulbright's against

HOW ALTOGETHER different is the Symington opposition to the Defense Department on its air power policy! The tall, matinee-idol Missourian disappointed some of the bloodthirsty press last year when he refused-much to his credit-to turn his air powinvestigation into a Roman holiday

The Symington committee report, published last week, is exactly like the hearings. It is factual, restrained, dignified and yet remonstrative. Its purpose is corrective, not destructive. There is no personal vendetta against Defense Secretary Wilson. There not the slightest attempt frustrate an Administration policy

THE DIFFERENCE between the Fulbright and Symington methods may very well be in the men themselves. Both come from cultivated family backgrounds, but the Arkansan is an educator and the Missourian is a successful businessman who was once regarded a a Republican.

Fulbright is a literate Southerner "with shoes on," as the saying goes, whereas Syming-ton has lived and worked all over the place and belongs to his State only by adoption.

Spirit to Be Sunday Science Sermon Topic

The fact that all things are pos sible to God will be emphasized at all Christian Science church serv ices Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Spirit."

Luke's account of Christ Jesus' healing of the "woman having an issue of blood twelve years" and of the reassuring words, "Daughter, be of good comfort: thy faith hath made thee whole; go in peace" (Luke 8) will be included in the readings from the King James Version of the Bible.

In a selection from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mary Baker Eddy writes, "The law of Christ, or Truth, makes all things possible to Spirit; but the so-called laws of matter would render Spirit of no avail, and demand obedience to materialistic codes, thus departing from the basis of one God, one lawmaker (p. 182)

can either take it or leave it-as you've probably already gussed if you've been reading these columns. I can remember the time I got so fed up with Commas, Semicolons, Dashes, Parentheses, Brackets, Quotation marks, Elipsises & Apostrophes, I had a special type writer built without any punctua-tion keys on it. And because I did not have to interrupt my phrases, clauses and adjectives with a bunch of dopey chicken scratchings I could write more rapidly and turn out twice as much material as any ordinary writer. Believe it or not in 1948 I wrote 43 Novels, 105 Short Stories, 200 TV Scripts and 4 Auto-biographies. Sounds impossible but I remember distinctly because that was the year I also collected 52 unemployment checks.
